

Boss 'Eadbanga looked again at his cards. He had three of something, which is more than he ever had in a winning hand. Glaring across the pile of teef on the table, he gazed at the one nob who had the lack of survival sense to still be in the game.

"Dat's all da teef I got, boss" said Grotsmakka.

'Eadbanga put his cards down and grabbed his winnings. "Dey're mine den."

"Uh, boss..." Grotsmakka laid his cards onto the table.....there were four of the same kind. "I gots lotz."

The rest of the nobz jumped back from the table, knocking it over and scattering 'Eadbanga's future winnings everywhere. They didn't want to be near his giant buzzsaw as it started up.

"Yeah? Well dat don't beat lotz and lotz."

Grotsmakka wasn't big enough yet for a fight with his boss. "True dat, boss."

'Eadbanga liked playing poker with his nobz, but the games never lasted past the first deal of the cards. Wanting something more, it was time for a road trip. He gathered up his crew, the Kracked Kranium MC, and as many boyz as he could round up. "We're headin' off to find more teef."

He heard a voice safely behind him, "Where is dat, boss?"

"It's not da destinashun, but da journey."
